Jim Harnish Named Spectator Editor

James E. Harnish, 21-year-old journalism major from Tacoma, will be editor-in-chief of The Spectator next year. The paper's faculty adviser, Fr. Francis J. Greene, S.J., announced the appointment today.

HARNISH will take over the paper in the fall. The son of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Harnish, the new editor was graduated from Bellarmine High School in 1958.

He was sports editor of The Spectator this year and news editor last year.

AS A FRESHMAN, Harnish was co-chairman of the High School Leadership Conference and a member of the Student Senate. He represented the sophomore class in the Senate last year and was chairman of the display committee for Homecoming.

JIM HARNISH

He was awarded a $500 scholarship from the Tacoma council of the Knights of Columbus when he was graduated from high school.

THE TACOMA junior has two brothers, John, a former student here and now on duty with the Army in Germany, and Jerry, a junior at Bellarmine.

The new editor said he would announce major staff appointments for next year in the near future.

At Bellarmine, Harnish was class president in his freshman, sophomore and junior years. He worked on the school annual and wrote a column for the school newspaper.

A television interview has been scheduled by KTNT-TV, Tacoma, for tentative showing on the station's news programs today.

Valedictory Talk Eliminated; Baccalaureate Date Moved

The valedictorian address will be discontinued at this year's commencement exercises. The action was taken by the Academic Council at its meeting last week and was announced by Fr. Frank B. Costello, S.J., academic vice president.

IN ANOTHER announcement this week, the University administration said that the Baccalaureate Mass has been moved from June 7 to Friday, June 2. The reason for the action was that the diocesan priests of the Seattle Archdiocese will begin their annual retreat June 6.

The Most Rev. Michael Martin Johnson, D.D., co-adjutor archbishop of Vancouver, B.C., will deliver the Baccalaureate sermon.

IN ANNOUNCING the elimination of the valedictory speech, the Academic Council said the reason for their action was that the deans and other members of the council felt the ceremony was a hold-over from high school traditions.

In the past when the valedictorian was selected, the student did not necessarily have the highest academic average. "The action was also taken in the interest of shortening the ceremony," Fr. Costello said.

Maxine Ortmeier Dorm President

Maxine Ortmeier, 19-year-old education major from Port Townsend, was elected president of Marycrest Hall, it was announced last night.

Maxine was elected AWS secretary in elections in March.

ANNE DONOVAN, this year's dorm president, was chosen Marycrest girl of the year. Both announcements were made at a dress dinner at the women's dorm. Elections were Wednesday.

Girls Awarded Training Grants

Sharon A. Missiaen, a sophomore from Bellingham, and Mary Van Dyke, a junior from Olympia, have been awarded educational grants for specialized training in guidance and counseling.

The grants give the two psychology majors financial assistance for the coming year with the possibility of renewal. Sharon received $800, and Mary, $438.

THE DELTA Theta Tau Sorority, a national philanthropic honorary, disburses grants to colleges selected by the winners. This is the first time local students have won these grants.

The recipient must maintain a satisfactory grade level or the grant may be withdrawn.

BOTH GIRLS are honor students with high grade point averages.

Mrs. Charles Devlin, the local committeewoman for the sorority, told The Spectator that the grants of the sorority are for juniors and seniors only who are interested in counseling and guidance work.

Annual Living Rosary Scheduled for Monday

The annual living rosary in honor of the Blessed Virgin will be Monday at 11 a.m., according to Tom Hemmen, chairman of the event. Classes will be suspended at 11 a.m., according to Fr. Frank B. Costello, S.J., academic vice president, and will resume as usual at 12:10 p.m.

THE ROSARY will be said in the area in front of the Liberal Arts Bldg., near the Perontau Shrine.

Fr. William J. Codd, S.J., will speak on "Mary and the S.U. Image."

The double quartet will sing and Carl Dehner will be featured soloist, singing "Ave Maria."

Walli Zimmerman, Homecoming Queen, will crown the statue of Mary. She will be assisted by the 1961 Homecoming court.

"THE PURPOSE of the living rosary," Hemmen said, "is to spur devotion to Our Lady, especially during her month, May."

Taking active part in the ceremonies will be members of the Intercollegiate Knights, Alpha Phi Omega, Spurs, Providence nurses, Scabbard and Blade, and officers of the Sodality and ASSU.

AN HONOR GUARD will be formed by the ROTC drill team.

Hemmen said that in event of rain this Monday, the ceremonies would be Monday, May 15.

Frosh Sponsor Mixer Tonight

The freshman class will sponsor "Last Blast" from 9 p.m. to 12:30 a.m. tonight in the Chieftain.

The Playboys, a local musical group, will play for the mixer.

Admission will be 75 cents, according to Sharon Morrissey of the publicity committee.

Senate Group to Open Hearings on Constitution

Open hearings where students may voice their opinions and air complaints regarding the proposed new ASSU constitution have been scheduled for next week. Gary Haggard, chairman of the Student Senate constitution committee, said the meetings will be Monday and Tuesday from 12:15 to 1:30 p.m. in room 119, Liberal Arts Bldg.

THE PROPOSED constitution is published in full on page 2 of this week's Spectator.

Members of the Senate indicated this week that some changes in wording and/or meaning may still be made at Sunday's Senate meeting. Other changes may be made after the hearings. These changes will be published in The Spectator.

Dave Irwin, ASSU first vice president, has set Tuesday, May 16, for a special election in which approval of the constitution and the revised student development contract will be voted on.

Career-Hounds Interested in More Money

Hoffa & Co.

By BARBARA MAY

College students are on the brink of stepping into the world as contributing members. The choice of a major is all-important to prepare one for a career which will be beneficial to the world, and profitable to oneself.

There are many considerations in choosing a career, but the only one worthy of note is, naturally, money. Money brings so much these days, like friends, votes, duck-billed platypi, viceroys . . . things the thinking man wouldn't be happy without.

WITH THIS IN MIND, the following suggestions for prosperous careers are offered, mainly to that ascetic group known as pre-majors.

Possibly the quickest route to a fast buck is to muscle your way into a new and rising U. S. corporation, like Hoffa & Co., Unionized Ids. A position with this firm is most desirable, although their product as well as their contribution to society are equally dubious.

GOOD OLE JIMMY, the president, says (as his little rule of thumb) "Even though you get to be a big businessman, do not forget the little things in life; mainly, avoid evading income tax . . . it could be fatal. And say, if you should happen to run into a chap named Bobby, be careful about what you say."

Secondary in pecuniary potential would be the opportunity to participate on one of TV's thriving shows. The quiz contestant is an interesting variety of noodle, highly suggestible, with wide experience in the art of facial calisthenics, and a delightful deviation of Madison Avenue ethics.

THE QUIZEE MUST BE able to answer questions pertinent to present day international problems, such as: "Regarding guerrilla warfare, why do Mao and King Kong disagree so violently? Where were Fidel and Raoul (pronounced RA—as in rah, rah—UL as in ouhl . . . try gargling it), so where were they when the rebs landed? Why does G.E.

seem to be unduly prejudiced towards government contracts? Whatz that hopsotch doing on the White House driveway? And, now that our man Yuri has paved the way, ven iss Nikita leavink?"

The career-hound might also look into ad writing, whipping off slogans such as, "Make your next vacation a smashing success in a Boeing 707." One might start out by taking the beginners' course in Addeception from Vance Packard, Ad.D., at the U. of Chicago.

THE COURSE IS DESIGNED to show one how to sell new, interesting, exciting and mainly useless inventions. If this field ever got tiring, one would be well equipped to go into soap operas . . . if they're still sudzing around.

For glamour, there is the life of a starlet. First, one must acquire the standard Hollywood status symbols: an analyst, a credit card from Rafael Trujillo, and a new name tag.

And last, but not least, is the adventurous and satisfying life of a spaceman. (At present there are several dedicated Soviets out there disintegrating.) This could prove to be a financial grand slam . . . like there must be millions out there.

'least useful of studies'

Philosophy Called Way of Life

By RONNIE MILLER

Philosophy is not a study which leads to broad vocational opportunities. It cannot produce goods for public consumption; it cannot advertise them, distribute them, or perform a service in connection with them.

From a strictly practical point of view, philosophy is one of the least useful of studies. Perhaps, the only thing one can do with philosophy is to teach it to college students.

SINCE INSTRUCTION in philosophy is done on the college level, preparing to teach it involves extensive graduate work leading up to a doctorate. Acquiring one's doctorate can, in some cases, be accomplished by spending three years in a "crash program." Or, the work towards a doctorate may be spaced out over many years.

Thus, preparing to teach philosophy is a serious and an expensive undertaking. The purely monetary rewards might easily seem to be disproportionate to the amount of time and effort required.

BUT PHILOSOPHY HAS never claimed to lead to commercial success. There are not many persons who know or care to know much about philosophy. Its content may often seem to be strangely out of contact with reality. Even though philosophy seems to suffer under such disadvantages, it is actually of great worth to all.

For philosophy is nothing more than an attempt to explain the human situation in a rational, coherent fashion. The issues with which philosophy deals . . . man's nature, his needs, his possible fulfillment, and his knowledge are of incomparably greater importance, in the long run, than any career imaginable. Sooner or later, every human being must formulate some basis, adequate or inadequate, to support his convictions.

PHILOSOPHY HAS ALWAYS been able to provide men with a mode of living and with rational support for beliefs. But ability, though the secret of its strength, has often been ignored.

Today, a philosopher is an individual who propounds various abstract theories of more or less academic interest. In the Graeco-Roman world, the philosopher was much more. He was a man who had formulated certain principles as the answer to the human situation, and he was his own testimony to the validity of those principles.

HE NOT ONLY PROPOUNDED them but he also lived according to their dictates. Philosophy was a matter of crucial personal importance. It was the rational foundation of one's whole life.

From this viewpoint, everyone could reap the benefits of philosophy. Put back in its proper place, it is not a career but a way of life which achieves the human destiny.

New Constitution

An important step in student government is in the offing with the proposition of a new constitution for the ASSU. In the works for more than a year, both present and past officers, members of the Student Senate and members of the ASSU have spent hours contributing to the new constitution.

THESE SAME people have indicated the hope that the new bill will vest the authority for government in the proper places.

Since the original draft was drawn up, the Student Senate has spent three meetings tightening up the wording, correcting obvious errors and straightening out ambiguities.

More importantly, two open hearings have been scheduled for Monday and Tuesday of next week where members of the ASSU may present their views.

THE SPECTATOR urges every student to read the proposed constitution and present views, opinions and gripes at the hearings. It is only in this way that the new bill can truly represent government "of the students."

Letters to the Editor:

Sophomore Answers

Dear "Interested but hand-tied Sophomore":

In answer to your letter that appeared in the April 21 issue of The Spectator, I would like to make available to you a few interesting facts that you seem to have overlooked.

AS TO YOUR CHARGE that the elections for junior class president and vice-president were a "pre-planned arrangement between dorm students," I would like to inform you that the president-elect of the junior class does not reside in the dorm nor did he last quarter and the vice-president-elect of the junior class is living in the men's dorm for the first quarter this year. Does it make sense to you that the dorm students would plan a "conspiracy" and not file a so-called "dorm candidate" for the office of president?

You also stated that the majority of the leaders of the sophomore class come from the dorms. If you would have checked you would have discovered that there are two town students and one dorm resident serving as this year's sophomore class officers. Also, there are only two of the five sophomore senators this year that are dorm residents. Leaving our class for a moment, we find the dorms are represented in only two elected ASSU offices this year and among the elected officers for next year we also find only two. However, I, for one, feel that the town and dorm students are equally and fairly represented in our student government.

YOU FURTHER STATE that you are an "interested but hand-tied sophomore." Why is this true? Were you not given the same opportunity as others to file for these offices? I don't think that it is a matter of any of the supposed leaders on campus being lazy or have you looked at those who are working for the betterment of this University as a whole instead of degrading it or any part of it? If you would but look at what other members of your class are doing you will discover that many of them are club officers of the various organizations here on campus.

You also indicated that it was just made evident to you that the president of the junior class is in charge of the arrangements for the Junior Prom. If you had previously taken any interest in your class, I am sure that this fact would have become apparent to you. Every action of your class officers this past two years has been directed toward appropriating money for the prom which is one of the biggest social events of the year.

AS AN INTERESTED and active member of the sophomore class, I can honestly say that I am proud of the leadership we have displayed in the past two years as shown by our dedicated leaders. I challenge you to become a part of the true spirit of the sophomore class and that of this University by actions and not more criticism.

OLD GRADS NEVER DIE

In just a matter of weeks many of you will be graduating—especially seniors.

You are of course eager to go out in the great world where opportunities are limitless and deans nonexistent. At the same time your hearts are heavy at the thought of losing touch with so many classmates you have come to know and love.

It is my pleasant task today to assure you that graduation need not mean losing touch with classmates; all you have to do is join the Alumni Association and every year you will receive a bright, newsy, chatty bulletin, chock full of information about all your old buddies.

Oh, what a red-letter day it is at my house, the day the Alumni Bulletin arrives! I cancel all my engagements, take the phone off the hook, dismiss my chiropractor, put the ocelot outside, and settle down for an evening of pure pleasure with the Bulletin and (need I add?) a good supply of Marlboro Cigarettes.

Whenever I am having fun, a Marlboro makes the fun even more fun. That filter, that flavor, that pack or box never fails to heighten my pleasure whether I am watching the television or playing buck euchre or knitting an afghan or reading Mad or enjoying any other fun-filled pursuit you might name—except, of course, spearfishing. But then, how much spearfishing does one do in Clovis, New Mexico, where I live?

But I digress. Let us return to my Alumni Bulletin and let me quote for you the interesting tidings about all my old friends and classmates:

Well, fellow alums, it certainly has been a wing-dinger of a year for all us old grads! Remember Mildred Cheddar and Harry Camembert, those crazy kids who always held hands in Econ II? Well, they're married now and living in Clovis, New Mexico, where Harry rents spearfishing equipment and Mildred has just given birth to a lovely 28-pound daughter, her second in four months. Nice going, Mildred and Harry!

Remember Jethro Brie, the man we voted most likely to succeed? Well, old Jethro is still gathering laurels! Last week he was voted "Motorman of the Year" by his fellow workers in the Duluth streetcar system. "I owe it all to my brakeman," said Jethro in a characteristically modest acceptance speech. Same old Jethro!

Probably the most glamorous time of all us alums was had by Francis Macomber last year. He went on a big game hunting safari all the way to Africa! We received many interesting post cards from Francis until he was, alas, accidentally shot and killed by his wife and white hunter. Tough luck, Francis!

Wilma "Deadeye" Macomber, widow of the late beloved Francis Macomber, was married yesterday to Fred "Sureshot" Quimby, white hunter, in a simple double-ring ceremony in Nairobi. Good luck, Wilma and Fred!

Well, alums, that just about wraps it up for this year. Keep 'em flying!

Hopcroft Receives Science Grant

By GRETCHEN FREDERICK

A $2800 fellowship to Stanford from the National Science Foundation and a first prize award in a student prize paper contest highlight the year for John Hopcroft, S.U. senior in electrical engineering.

John applied for the fellowship last October and received the answer by mail on March 15. "The letter was kind of bulky, so I knew," he laughed. The fellowship will enable him to acquire an M.A. in electrical engineering.

"I'll enroll at Stanford next fall," John said, "and specialize in studying high-frequency radio waves."

IN THE ANNUAL STUDENT PAPER Contest on April 14, jointly sponsored by the Seattle sections of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers and the Institute of Radio Engineers. First prize was awarded to John. His paper was entitled, "Jacobian Analysis of Two Port Networks," which is a mathematical technique for analyzing electrical circuits. His paper will be forwarded to Pullman, Washington, for participation in regional competition.

The second in his family to graduate from the S.U. school of engineering, John maintained that he had been interested in engineering since high school. "I've always like math," he chuckled, "and enjoyed tinkering with radios."

HE GRADUATED FROM PREP in '57, and is attending S.U. on a scholarship. During the summers of '59 and '60, he worked on a research program at S.U. under Fr. Paul P. Luger S.J., for the National Science Foundation. "This summer, I will be working for Boeing," he said.

Born and raised in Seattle, John reflects the typical Seattleite in his interest in sports. "I've played tennis for several years," he said, "and also enjoy skiing."

TRYING OUT SOME new equipment in the engineering department is National Science Foundation fellowship winner, John Hopcroft.

LOOKING TO THE FUTURE, the 6'-6" engineer hopes to go into antenna designing. "Eventually," he acknowledged, "I hope to return to S.U. and teach."

Sounding Board:

Peripheral Countries Important

Sounding Board is an opinion column which is open for student comment pertaining to issues on the campus, local or international level. The opinions are personal and in no way reflect the policy of the paper or the school. The Spectator asks that the column be typewritten in a maximum of 500 words and a minimum of 200 words. We reserve the right to shorten as space permits or hold for future editions.

By TONE SHIMIZU

In a recent editorial, Mr. Walter Lippmann stressed the unimportance of the battles being waged in the small peripheral countries of Asia.

An occidental after reading and carefully following the reasoning process cannot help but agree with Mr. Lippmann. It is somewhat understandable of people whose sole actual knowledge of war-time sufferings is based on reading materials.

SINCE THE consequences of their judgments are so remote and will not in any way whatsoever affect them directly, people in "ivory towers" might recline more easily, shrugging off the situation as posing no real immediate danger to the security of their country. As Mr. Lippmann has stated: "these peripheral countries cannot pose a vital threat to the security of the United States and we must not exaggerate their importance."

Looking at it from that particular point of view would make Lippmann's logic sound valid. But from my angle of vision this reasoning is as thin as the border between Laos and Thailand. I agree that the crisis in Laos does not imply an immediate danger to this country, and, consequently, the U.S. has no obligation to risk the lives of thousands of her brave men to fight for another nation. Neither can the imminent communist mastery over Asia be considered a sufficient basis for American involvement in a possible nuclear war.

BUT WHAT the adherents to this proposition seem to miss is the sordid fact that every triumph by the communists in Asia serves as a solid steppingstone for further potential global conquest.

A more practical and immediate example than the present situation in Laos cannot be given. The proponents of the non-resistance policy seem to forget that although the socialist subversion of Laos does not constitute a direct attack on their luxurious lives, millions of other people who are prey to the oncoming crimson hordes must experience an intolerable suffering. But this, I am sure, is something beyond those people who have never experienced hunger and cold.

FOR THOSE ASIAN peoples whose countries lie in the path of the oncoming fire, there lies but one solution: stop it at the source. Perhaps Mr. Lippmann has stated this country's policy very clearly: "American armed engagements in these peripheral countries, with the Soviet's power 'uncommitted,' would be the height of strategic folly."

The U.S.' hesitation to commit herself directly while Russia remains a "spectator" is apparent. But the point is that if the U.S. herself is reluctant, why hold the reins of those countries whose security is in danger? As the free people of Asia watch helpless and frustrated, the Red troops of Laos have infiltrated the country to "the point of no return."

IT IS OBVIOUS that the longer the U.S. restrains the non-communist countries of Asia in the state of indecision, the greater will be the danger in the threatened nations. Therefore, for us, unless we want the fanatics of Marxist's theories at our very doorsteps, there should remain but one alternative—stop the advance by the clash of steel against steel.

Speculating

Coed P.E. Major | No Courses for Sports Problem | Female Athletes

with gene esquivel

Marilyn Cejka has a "major" problem. Marilyn, a sophomore from Kennewick, Wash., has high hopes of becoming S.U.'s first woman to graduate with a major in physical education.

But unfortunately, the department doesn't have the facilities to offer courses which are needed to instruct girls in high schools. Marilyn stated that other girls have graduated from S.U. with a minor in P.E., but not with a major.

"THE UNIVERSITY of Washington offers a major to women, but not having gone to a Catholic high school, I've come to appreciate my philosophy and theology courses," said Marilyn. "However, I will be able to teach P.E. with my minor, although I've been praying that I could major in it," replied the pert little brunette.

MARILYN WAS introduced into athletics by her sports-minded family. "We're mainly a baseball family," said Marilyn. "My dad played semi-pro baseball and the whole family always has loved the game."

Vince Cejka, Marilyn's 16-year-old brother, always was instrumental in getting her interested in sports. "When Vince's friends were minus an extra player, I was always on hand," said Marilyn. "You might say I was a tomboy, but I don't think it detracted from my femininity."

THE CEJKAS LOST Vince last March. He died on the baseball field while running wind sprints. The cause of his death, reported doctors, was 24-hour rheumatic fever. He wanted to be a pro baseball player stated Marilyn. But then, as she put it, "the Good Lord needed a centerfielder."

Marilyn worked into physical education work gradually, starting with camp groups. She works as a life guard at a Kennewick pool during the summer as does her sister Doris, who is a senior at S.U.

MARILYN HOPES to be teaching in Washington at the junior high school level. "At that age, they seem to be more enthusiastic," said Marilyn. "In high school, the girls don't seem to like sports as much, and I don't know why."

Athletics mean more to Marilyn than just teaching. Her other main goal is to give her own children the same wonderful experience of sports that she was given by her parents. "I think sports can tie a family together," said Marilyn. Perhaps other families in the United States could profit by this remark.

Spring Track Meet Open to All Students

S.U. students will have a chance to get the kinks out of their legs in the spring intramural track meet May 13 at the Garfield track. The time is not set.

Dale Shirley, assistant intramural director, said that the meet is open to both men and women. Students may enter individually or as a team. Shirley said he would prefer team entries.

IF ENOUGH WOMEN students sign up for the meet there will be special events exclusively for the girls.

As it stands now, Shirley said, they will have the following events: high jump, broad jump, shot put, 60 and 100 yard dashes; 440 and 880 yard runs and the mile run.

IN THE RELAY category, there will be a 440 and 880 yard relay. The teams may be made up of both men and women.

There will be no discus, pole vault or javelin throw, Shirley said.

EACH STUDENT is limited to entering two field events and one running event.

"We want to have everybody get out and have fun without knocking themselves out," Shirley said.

Davis' Condition Good Say Doctor, Cazzetta

Waverly Davis definitely will enroll here next fall and play for the Chieftains, says Vince Cazzetta.

Davis is in satisfactory condition and is gradually improving. However Dr. Cloyde Fausnaugh, his physician, was reluctant to say when he might be released. He said that it would be "a matter of months, not weeks" before Davis could return to normal, active participation in athletics.

THE DOCTOR said the reason was that burn cases were tricky. He also said that each case must be treated separately.

Cazzetta said that he appeared to be doing pretty well. He also praised him for his courage.

IN THE SIXTH, the Chiefs bombarded the Pilots again, scoring four runs on four hits.

In the eighth inning Harry Lambro singled with the bases loaded to drive in three runs.

In the second game Lambro drove in five runs and Bob Neubauer pushed in three. Rudy D'Amico was the winner in the 19-3 rout.

THE CHIEFS waited until the third inning in this game to explode. Richie Kayla singled and Michael and McCauley were safe on errors.

Bob Neubauer and Lloyd Burgart singled and Harry Lambro tripled to give the Chiefs an inning total of five runs.

The Chiefs picked up two in the fourth and then went on a scoring spree in the sixth.

THERE WERE four triples in the inning, hit by Michael, McCauley, Lambro and Kayla. Rudy D'Amico added a single.

In the eighth inning the Chiefs put the icing on the cake with three more runs with singles by Lambro and Steve Wandzilak.

S.U. Netters Post Split Matches, Beat Idaho 4-3, Lose to W.S.U.

The S.U. netters posted a split in matches this week. The Chiefs beat Idaho, 4-3, and lost to WSU, 6-1.

In the match with the Cougars, Mark Frisby was the only Chieftain to win, 8-6, 4-6, 6-2. The scalped Chiefs were Stan Stricherz losing 6-2, 6-4; Jiro Suguro, 8-6, 4-6, 6-4; Mike Dowd, 6-1, 6-2; John Curran, 6-1, 6-3.

IN THE TWO DOUBLES matches the Chiefs took the Cougars into three sets but lost both.

On Monday the Chieftain netmen defeated Idaho at Moscow, 4-3. In the feature singles match of the day, Idaho's Howard Seeley defeated Mark Frisby in a three-set encounter, 4-6, 6-1, 6-0.

JIRO SUGURO bounced the Chiefs back into contention, defeating Jim Paulson, 6-1, 6-2.

The Chiefs swept the remaining singles matches with Dowd, Curran and Stricherz all winning.

IDAHO SWEPT both doubles matches with Frisby-Dowd and Curran-Suguro losing. Both matches went into three sets.

Chieftain Golfers Lose to Huskies

The S.U. golf team were humbled by the red hot U. W. club swingers Monday, 11½-6½. Jack Lamey was medalist for the Huskies with a 3-under-par 69.

Eddie Pearsall led the Chiefs with a 72 winning 1½ points. Bill Warner won 2½ points with a 73. Gary Galbreath won one point with a 75. Pete Carlozzi won one with a 75.

The University of British Columbia baseball team didn't bring their water wings with them and the Chieftains didn't have enough umbrellas to go around, so yesterday's doubleheader was postponed until today at 10 a.m. The games will be played at Broadway playfield, Eddie O'Brien said.

O'Brien will start Jim Hatzenbihler and Frank DeMauro as pitchers in the two games.

U.B.C. COACH Frank Gump said he will start Lyle Thompson and Bill Ingram on the mound.

Raindrops and examinations have hindered the Canadian baseballers this season. They have played only five games this season. They took a pair from St. Martins Tuesday, 1-0, 7-2.

THE TEAM was idle from April 5 to Tuesday because of their examination schedule. Classes are over now for the Canadians this year. "We're on vacation," Coach Gump said.

"We're not worried about winning," he said, "we're here to play baseball and have fun."

Sports Spotlight to Shine For S.U. Teams Next Week

The S.U. sport brigades will be out in full force next week with eight athletic contests scheduled.

The baseball team will play the Portland University Pilots in a doubleheader tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. at Broadway playfield. Thursday, the S.U. nine will travel to Spokane to take on the Whitworth Pirates in a doubleheader.

ON THE LINKS, the Chieftain golf team will compete in a four-way match with University of Oregon, Portland State University and the University of British Columbia in Portland today.

On Monday the club swingers take on the U.W. Huskies at 1 p.m. at Rainier Country Club. Thursday, Pacific Lutheran University will host the Chiefs in Tacoma.
